

Omega Chapter

May 9, 2017

Holloway House, Bloomfield

Attendance: 36 members and two guests, Jane Falter, guest speaker, and Gail Burr's daughter.

Meeting called to order at 6:30 p.m.

Review of April Minutes: Sally Maxon moved to approve; Renee Durso seconded. Approved.

Pi State Meeting in Cooperstown: Co-presidents, Kerry Smartt, and Mary Cherniss, mentioned that ideas for growing and maintaining membership will lead to some brainstorming sessions in the coming months.

Change of June Meeting location: This will now be held at Ray's in Canandaigua which is on route 332. Sue Cunningham arranged this for Omega.

Hostess Committee: Great thanks to Lynda John and Katjia Stephens for stepping in and heading the committee for May.

World Fellowship: Lynda John and Cyndi Lynch talked about the available scholarships for women educators who can do a one year project with money from DKG International. Lynda says we have not had a project for Omega but there is a possibility of making a connection with Anne Forbes who has a brother working in Honduras and Nicaragua helping to educate girls.

Scholarship: Holly Rich says the committee has designated five recipients for the scholarships this year: Paige Boor from Geneva; Skylar Guest from Canandaigua; Alexandra Blazey from Canandaigua; Kayli Krossber from Marcus Whitman and Anna Socha from Phelps-Clifton Springs The winners will be honored at the June meeting.

“Tea” cups: Several members brought and shared their special tea cups at the meeting.

Speaker: Life coach, Jane Falter, spoke about her background and journey through multiple careers and how the “Growth Mindset” is a way to life-long learning.

Treasurer’s Report: Judy Kiehle’s report is attached.

Meeting adjourned at 7:30: Motion from Della Ludwig, seconded Karen Busby. Approved.

Respectfully submitted by:

Beverly Lanoue, Secretary
