

November 2016 Omega Newsletter

As we pack away the ghosts and witches for another year we look forward to the yearly
Omega AUCTION!!

For our new members (who possibly haven't attended an Omega Auction), this is our annual event that raises money for our scholarships. Sisters bring items for everyone to bid on from handmade crafts, to mouthwatering baked goods to holiday gifts. Chapter members can get into some pretty heavy and competitive bidding! As Chair Sue Cunningham says: "Get a great start to your Christmas shopping and entertaining by purchasing wonderful gifts and scrumptious foods. Think about all your friends who you don't see enough who would enjoy a holiday dinner and event like ours. Thanks to all who generously signed up to use their talents and time to make this a success." It's a night filled with laughter, good-humored competition and a warm, cheery feeling because Omega is all together. Hoping for a great turn out with our sisters bringing at least one guest to spread the cheer.

The business meeting will be very short. We will approve last month's minutes and vote on two resignations. This will be followed by the Pledge, introduction of guests, attendance, Pink Pig and dinner. Then the auction with Sue Cunningham, Deb Trombino and Deb Poplasky at the helm.

Not forgetting our donations to the school nurses in our districts, please bring mittens and hats to put in the basket we'll provide.

And, finally a reminder that Omega Gets Social - the Technology edition is this Thursday at Marcus Whitman HS on Baldwin Road at 4 PM - see you there!
